and Commissioners to attend the Texas Judges and Commissioners meeting in Laredo early in the month. Money was to be taken from the general fund.

At their regular meeting on Nov. 12, they authorized payment of $94 to Emma Stewart, Clerk of 6th Administrative Judicial District, Del Rio, as Medina County's assessment for 1957. They also authorized purchase of a pair of binoculars, $27.50, for the sheriff's department; approved the county financial report for the quarter; and sent a memo to F. M. Davis, district highway engineer, stating that the county would furnish all right-of-way of 80 feet minimum of Devine Black Creek, Yancey public road beginning at Devine city limits and extending to the west and southwest, a total of about nine miles.

Low Car Bid

The court accepted the bid of J. B. Harrison Motor Co., Inc. of Devine, on a car for the sheriff's department. His bid, for a new Ford, was $1959.20. Other bidders were: Jake Schuehle, $1966 for a Ford; Medina Motor Sales, $1995, Chevrolet; Buster Rath Motor Co., $2182.54, Oldsmobile; Wilson Chevrolet, $2224; and Jack Winkler, $2267 for a Pontiac or $2316 for a Buick.

Called Meeting Saturday

Meeting on Saturday, Nov. 23, the commissioners court opened bids for the improvement and remodeling of the county clerk's office and vault.

The bid of Alfred Brucks, $2877 was accepted. Other bidders were: Alamo Lumber Co., $2995 and George T. Wilkerson, Devine, $3300.

Architect Joseph Palle was asked to see that the work begins at the earliest possible date. The commissioners also granted county aid to Carmen de la Cruz, Hondo, $5 and to Louise Sanchez, $10 per month for the next three months.

District Court Session In Hondo November 25-26

In a session of district court which began Monday morning, District Judge Ross Doughty considered the following cases: Elida Flores Ramirez vs Victor Ramirez, divorce, granted. Plaintiffs name prior to marriage, Elida Flores, to be restored.

Frank X. Vance was appointed to defend a suit in behalf of the defendants who did not appear or file in the case of James P. Settles, et al, vs Edgar Loyd and wife, Laura Loyd, and Samuel Harcastle.

Frank X. Vance was appointed to defend a suit in behalf of the defendants in the case of Joe E. Briscoe vs A. J. Welsh and wife, Margaret Welsh. Judge ruled for the plaintiff to recover title and possession to three acres in Devine, costs assessed against plaintiff.

In the case of John H. Jennings vs Olga P. Jennings, Judge Doughty issued an order to maintain the status quo of all property belonging to the parties pending final hearing on divorce action.

Juan Antonio Valle vs Dominga Ortiz Valle, divorce, granted, and plaintiff awarded custody of three children.

Telephone Company Asks Devine For Rate Raise

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company has filed a request for higher rates in Devine.

Carroll Davis, manager of the company, said that "continued inadequate earnings on our operations here leave us no choice but to ask for an increase in local rates."

Rates requested by the company are: $10.00 a month for a business telephone, $5.60 for one-party residence service, and $4.25 for two-party service.

"These rates should help us to meet today's higher costs of furnishing telephone service here," Davis said.

The company last received an increase in local rates here in September, 1954, in response to a request filed in June, 1954. This request was based on operating results during 1953.

"Since that time, the continuing high cost of furnishing telephone service in Devine has resulted in unsatisfactory earnings on our operations here. Present rates — based on 1956 operations — are too low to meet today's costs of doing business, including a fair return on our investment here after all expenses are paid," Davis declared.

"The company has done all it can to keep expenses here as low as possible. The only solution is a reasonable increase in rates, in keeping with today's high costs," he said.

County Men Attend State Farm Bureau Convention

Calvin Hardt, president of the Medina County Farm Bureau, Bonner Carl and Jerry Howard were delegates to the Texas Farm Bureau convention Nov. 17-20 in Dallas. Mrs. Hardt also attended the convention.

Among the convention accomplishments were: Approval of a resolution calling for the gradual elimination of government regulation of individual farming operations; in regard to the soil bank program, they called for a total acreage retirement program under which the percentage of cropland retired would be determined by the percentage of overall overproduction of all farm commodities; in the field of research, they called for more research in agriculture; authorized no changes in present system of allocating funds for building farm-to-market roads; voted that the rural electric cooperatives should have equal rights with any electric power suppliers in rural areas; and favored development of a state-wide water development plan and supported the theory that diffused water belongs to the land on which it falls.

Pickup Truck Demolished

Snow and road conditions were responsible for two accidents in Medina County Saturday night, one resulting in the instant death of Lillian I. Haas, 47, and the critical injury of her husband.

Mr. and Mrs. Sebastian Alfred Haas of Rt. 1, Devine, in a 1956 Chevrolet pickup, collided with Southern Pacific train 241 at 10:40 p.m. Mrs. Haas was killed instantly and was taken to a funeral home in Devine. Her husband, suffering severe head injuries, was rushed to Castroville Clinic where he was reported in an improved condition Wednesday.

The accident occurred 5.7 miles south of Castroville on the county road known as Biry lane. The pickup ran into the caboose of the train, according to investigating officer Kay Phillips of the Texas Highway Patrol.

Phillips, who is stationed in Hondo, also investigated a wreck on Highway 90 later Saturday night.

The collision, involving three vehicles, occurred at 11:45 p.m. on the Dunlay overpass. L. E. BanThao, a student officer at Hondo Air Base from Viet Nam, hit a post along the roadside, got out of his '51 DeSoto to look the situation over when a second vehicle coming from behind swung out in the approaching lane to avoid hitting the man. When he did this, Adelard Arthur Godin of San Antonio, driving a '56 Chevrolet sedan, hit a car coming from the other direction. It was a '32 Buick driven by Marion Wm. Hopson, also of San Antonio.

Phillips reported no personal injuries, but considerable property damage, and credited the accident to road conditions.

Charles Oefinger Is Bitten By Fox

Charles Oefinger, Medina County farmer, was attacked by a fox Saturday morning while he stood on his front porch.

The fox had been chasing the Oefinger dog and cat when it side-tracked long enough to run up on the porch and bite Oefinger on the chest. The victim grabbed the animal by the throat, choking him, then snatched up a piece of wire and finished the job of killing it.

Oefinger was treated in Castroville for the wound, and was given a tetanus shot. Monday he began taking rabies shots. His son, Harry Oefinger, took the animal into San Antonio where it was packed in ice and shipped to Austin to be tested for rabies.

Veterinarians told Oefinger the animal was almost certain to show a positive test as a fox would rarely attack a human unless it did have rabies.

Dr. Faye Wurzbach of the Castroville Clinic said that the report came from Austin Tuesday and the fox was rabid.

Snow In Hondo

Snow, beautiful but seldom seen in Medina County, fell Saturday night, blanketing the area with from one to three inches.

Those among our citizenry who formerly lived in areas where the white stuff is not unusual, thought it most unusual that its falling was accompanied by lightning and thunder.

Weight of snow on leaves of a kids had enjoyed their quota of big pecan tree on the courthouse lawn, caused the tree to split right down the middle, destroying it. Big limbs fell from other trees in town too, a result of the added weight on leaves which had not yet fallen from the limbs this fall.

Many youngsters, afraid it would be all gone before morning, raced out that night to construct a snowman while it was still coming down. But others had their turn Sunday morning and hardly a lawn in Hondo was without a snowman or two, or three.

A few people had more ambitious ideas. John Walter Meyer, for instance, spent about four hours making a graceful swan. His procedure including rolling up a big snowball then chipping away at it similar to the way stone sculpturing is done. Johnny said that his biggest problem was not with the artistry, but with his younger, kibitzing brother, Jimmy, age 10, who thought it would make a wonderful snowball target.

By 1:00 p.m. Sunday, the sun was bright and the snow began melting, and 24 hours after it fell, there was scarcely a trace of it except for a few misshapen snowmen standing on their last leg.

The snow was gone and the kids had enjoyed their quota of playing in it for about a five-year arrived the day before, glad to get out of the midwest cold for Thanksgiving. So what happens? The biggest snow in years. More snow pictures on pages 11 and 12.

ONE OF THE FIRST TO TRY THE SNOW for snowmen purposes was Paula Stanga, with a little assist from her dad. They built this grouping Saturday night before the snow stopped falling. Paula's grandmother from Ohio

Goodbye To "Huck Finn"?

Without a doubt Mark Twain's "Huckleberry Finn" is one of the best-loved books in the English language. It has been classed alongside Tolstoy's "War and Peace," Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables," and a few others as one of the greatest works of fiction written in any language at any time. And New York City has banned it from approved book lists for elementary and junior high schools.

Why? Because some Negroes have called it racially offensive.

And why again? Because the book's perhaps outstanding character, "Nigger Jim," was a slave? Or else could he have been in the South of the 40's?

Because Jim is made to say things like, "I see a-a-c-o-m-i-n-g round de p'int bymeby"? How could a Negro farm hand of Pike County, Missouri, speak in those days?

Mrs. Judith Loftus, the newcomer to St. Petersburg, says to Huck: "Set down and stay where you are. I ain't going to hurt you and I ain't going to on you, nuther." Should the white people of the border South ban the book as an affront to the rural dialect?

Because "Huckleberry Finn" does not present a Negro in a sympathetic light? In all literature there is no more scathing indictment of man's inhumanity to man as exemplified in the institution of Negro slavery than the book itself — no more important tribute to the Negro's compassion than accounts of Jim's joy over Huck's escape from the river and of his sacrificing freedom to nurse the maverick Tom Sawyer.

Out of the pages of "Huckleberry Finn" millions of white Americans have gained respect and admiration for the Negro's basic worth — and if for no other reason, some insight into where the major responsibility lies.

All of this is of a piece with the pressures to from the radio much-loved Negro dialect songs. Some of these, whether evolved from cotton-field songs or written by Stephen Foster, make up a less portion of America's none-too-extensive folk music.

Are we to rewrite history, like the Soviets, and say that the American Negro, however remarkable, has risen from primitive cultures in Africa? Or to pretend that he always and everywhere spoken as though he had just stepped out of the University of Chicago or Harvard College?

The family, the nation, the race which exalts in scoring others is obnoxious; the one which states its origins and disdains its own identity is despised.

Any Negroes who object to "Huckleberry Finn" should ask themselves whether their status in American society is likely to be better for trying to become imitation whites or finding pride in being Negroes—in appreciating the best in their own heritage and preserving it.

SECO PHILOSOPHER ISN'T

Reassured To Learn U. S. Missile Program Is Right On Schedule

Editor's note: The Seco Philosopher is concerned about the U. S. missile program, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:

Everybody is looking for reassurance in these days of intercontinental missiles and while I am not prepared to believe yet that Russia can line up all its long-range missiles, take aim, and blow up every city in the world in thirty minutes, still her success in launching a 1100-pound satellite is hard to argue with when it comes to saying who's ahead in this department, and naturally all of us have been concerned.

Consequently, Washington is getting on the ball and I think we can catch up all right, but I was interested in what a Washington expert had to say to a Congressional committee the other day along this line.

According to an article I read in a newspaper which I paid a nickel for, after all, I recognize this missile program is going to cost us all some money and I figured the least I could do was face up to my part of the load and spend a nickel to keep posted, this expert in Washington, when pressed for an answer on how our missile program is coming along, said it "was right on schedule."

I have thought his answer over and don't know whether I'm reassured or not.

That is, you take my farm out here. According to the agricultural experts, it's one of the worst run-down places in this area, fences falling over, barn doors sagging, front steps rotted out, loose boards on the back porch, loose bricks in the chimney, etc., but according to my work plan, it's right on schedule.

The reason I haven't fixed the front steps is because I've scheduled that work for year after next. The barn door hinges are coming up in 1959, the front gate has sagged through two world wars and no tax assessor has failed to get through it yet.

Now I'm not saying the U. S. missile program is in the same shape my farm is, I don't know, but I do know it's possible to be right on schedule and still be ten years behind your neighbor.

I also hope the U. S. plans to do something about it quicker than I do about this farm.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

MR. SANTILBEN AS A FREIGHTER TO MEXICO

Corrections: The name in the fourth line of last week's article should be Shane's instead of Saw's as printed. Further on the line should be End of Chapter VI instead of as printed, F.D.

"Besides passengers and their baggage, we carried all kinds of paying freight, but mostly money, and occasionally we transported livestock, such as game chickens and blooded sheep. The games were known as Guideo de Seguin, and they had a great reputation on account of their fighting qualities, in which respect they resembled the people in that region. They were raised mostly in Seguin, and some of them were billed over our route to the City of Mexico, where they were highly prized by chicken fighters. Two were placed in a coop divided into two apartments, and our freight charge was twenty-five dollars. One pair of Merino lambs was conveyed on the stage to Monterey, that Charles Griesenbeck consigned to Governor Maduro, ex-governor of Coahuila. They were crated and the charges amounted to fifty dollars.

"When not too heavily loaded we imported as many as two thousand choice oranges, which brought us one hundred dollars per thousand in San Antonio at wholesale; also, chili pepper, that we sold at one dollar per pound whole sale, and other things of equal value. Our return freight to Mexico consisted mostly of eatables, which we also sold at wholesale prices. We often took so much as two hundred and fifty pounds of hams, and sold them at one dollar a pound; and twice a month we bought from Joe Ney, at D'Hanis, two hundred pounds of butter, in four cans, that was placed under the driver's seat, for which our customers paid us one dollar a pound; they retailed it at one dollar and fifty cents. One of our customers was Mrs. Russell, now Mrs. Cloudon, the mother-in-law of Mr. Sacia, the cotton buyer, who conducted a bakery and confectionery store in Monterey. Our stage fare from San Antonio to Monterey was $75.00.

"We often carried large sums of Mexican money out of the country, and charged three per cent for freighting it to San Antonio, which, when added to the twelve per cent export duties, increased the expense to fifteen per cent. Our charge was less than those formerly prevailing and they were reduced by the premium allowed on Mexican silver on account of its purity. New York drafts then commanded a premium, ranging as high as twenty per cent, and there was always a demand for them in Monterey. The Texas firms that transacted the largest business with merchants in Mexico, at that period, were Messrs. Halff & Bro., Goldfrank, Frank & Co., and F. Gross & Co., all of San Antonio, and our stage often brought for them as much as twenty thousand dollars from that country. Not one cent was ever lost that was entrusted to our care, and we established a confidence that was upheld by our company throughout its career.

After the close of the French war, we contracted with Philip Naranjo, a brother of General Naranjo of the Mexican army, to deliver two thousand Minea rifles to the national Government. We found a lot of second-hand guns in New Orleans that had been used in the Civil War, and we bought the required number at auction, for eighteen hundred dollars or less than a dollar apiece. They were brought to San Antonio and placed in Captain Muenzenberger's store, on West Commerce Street, where the Washington Theater now stands. Only five hundred were delivered before the building, including the other rifles, was destroyed by fire, and we suffered a total loss because we carried no insurance, but the profit on those that were sold more than covered our entire outlay.

"We drove six animals to the coach in Texas, and in Mexico, eight on account of the heavy traffic. The coach weighed about three thousand pounds, and was substantially built, with a capacity for carrying about four thousand pounds. The wood used in its construction was the choicest hickory, and all the iron work was the best quality of steel. The spindles of the steel axles were two and a half inches thick and about fourteen inches long. The cushions were upholstered on coiled steel springs, with horse-hair filling, and covered with the best quality of brown calfskin leather, consequently they were very expensive. The body was swung on leather braces and it was capable of seating eighteen average sized persons very comfortably, as it had three seats inside, each large enough for three people, and three others on the roof, capable of accommodating a like number. One of the outside seats was close behind that occupied by the driver, similar to those used in transfer buses in large cities. The third seat was on the hind end of the coach, above the boot where trunks and other bulky baggage was usually carried, which faced toward the rear, and it had a top attached to it like those used on buggies, that could be raised or lowered. The flat top of the coach was covered with heavy ducking that was impervious to water, and it had an iron railing two feet in height around its edge. The two seats on top, in the rear of that occupied by the driver and guard, were rarely used except in Mexico, where there was more traveling, when they, and the floor of the roof, were often crowded. Once the coach entered Lampazos with twenty-three passengers, but that was an exceptional occasion, though generally we received a liberal patronage.

"The coach was manufactured by Abbott, Downing & Co., in Concord, New Hampshire, and it was imported by Mr. A. Staacke, their agent for such vehicles and Concord buggies in west Texas. He was also for Wilson & Childs, of Philadelphia, and introduced the first wagons, called "prairie schooners", that were used for over-land freighting, and the first Studeraker farm wagons, which have since become so popular. He suggested to this firm the manufacture of large cart wheels with heavy iron axles for freighting purposes, that were first introduced through him into Mexico, where they came into general use. In addition to his large stock of vehicles, in his establishment on West Commerce Street he kept an extensive assortment of supplies necessary for teamsters and train owners, and nearly all of them purchased their outfits from him.

PERSONAL APPEARANCE

BY JERRY JUNE BERGER

Amid the hair-raising hunting tales was one which happened to ROBERT RIFF on the opening day of the season. Saturday afternoon he was headed for his tree stand when he very nearly stepped on a coiled rattler. While striking at it with the butt of his gun to push it away from him, a second rattler came slithering between his feet. At that point, distance made no difference. He fired three times and shot both snakes just the way they ought to be — dead. These were no babies, as one had 10 rattles, the other 12. Snakes alive! Can anyone beat that story?

It was only a case of misunderstanding the word, but anyway, GLENN GARRISON, son of Mr. and Mrs. MARCEL LUS GARRISON, was just a little annoyed that his grandmother, MRS. FABIAN GARRISON, could not understand what he was talking about.

This 7-year old kept insisting he wanted some D'Hanis shoes, "like the other boys wear" and "Nanny" thought he was wanting to go to D'Hanis to buy a pair of shoes. But when GLENN took her to town, he made her understand. There he pointed out a pair of tennis shoes — exactly what he wanted.

We made a point of turning the television dial just right, Wednesday night, so we could be sure and watch the video production of "Huck Finn". A half hour after it began, we started looking for another channel — as far as we were concerned it was a total flop.

Why on earth TV producers can't leave well enough alone and produce a literary classic as it was written is beyond us. Instead, they have to louse it up with a lot of giddy songs and dances and make it next to impossible to recognize the story from which it was taken. But this is all part of a very

TWO BAD LEGS and one good one! — Young Brian David Billstein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd L. Billstein, Victoria, is chewing on a big fat turkey leg. The traditional turkey will appear on the menu at Gonzales Warm Springs Rehabilitation Foundation on Thanksgiving day. Young Billstein, a polio victim, is a patient at the Foundation for the third time since the onset of his polio attack in May 1956. He isn't going to let a small matter of two long leg braces interfere with polishing off the huge meaty turkey leg.

Comets Grab All-Star Honors

CASTROVILLE — At a recent Academic League meeting held in San Antonio, nine St. Louis Comets were placed on the Academic League All-Star list. Three St. Louis lads gained the honor on the first team. They are Senior Halfback Royce, Junior Center John Henry Meyer, and Junior Guard Jimmy Jaugman. Royce, a four year Comet letman and co-captain this season, was a repeater on the first team at the halfback spot. Groff, the Comet scorers this season with 17 touchdowns totaling 101 points. Since his Sophomore year, Royce has scored in 28 of 34 games. His 24 game scoring streak was broken this year at the season. Support, also a co-captain this season, did some good hard blocking in the center of the forward line this year to help shake Comet speedsters loose on numerous occasions. Jaugman was a unanimous choice for the all-star guard slot. Jimmy has one more season ahead of him as a Comet and it should be a good one. This year the 160 pound playmaker was the defensive workhorse operating from his inside linebacker position. Named on the second team for St. Louis were: Junior End Tommy Boehme, Senior Quarterback Carl Mangold, and Junior Halfback Bobby Tschirhart. Also receiving honorable mention were the following: Senior Tackle Jerry Holzhaus, Junior Tackle Bruce Tondre, and Junior Back Arthur Espino. St. Louis finished the season with a respectable 7-3 record. In Academic League play, the defending champion Comets finished behind St. Gerard's and Peacock with three wins and 2 losses.

Letter To Santa Contest To Begin In Next Paper

As is the custom, the Anvil Herald will again this year offer a prize each week for the best letter to Santa Claus written by Medina County small fry.

After Santa Claus reads letters from the local kids, he usually mails them right back to the Anvil Herald so that we are able to enjoy the letters. And thanks to the post office employees, North Pole letters eventually wind up in the Anvil Herald box.

So get out your pencil and paper, kids, and write your letters. The only rule is that you must write it yourself to be eligible for a prize. Little brother or sister will have a chance at a prize when they get bigger.

There will be a prize for the best letter to Santa published in the issue of Dec. 6, one for the best in the Dec. 13 issue and another for the best in the Dec. 20 issue.

Santa has already forwarded the following letters to the Anvil Herald.

Quail Season Opens Dec. 1

Quail hunters will find the best crop of birds in years when the season opens in Texas Dec. 1, according to the Director of Law Enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission. He says reports from wardens throughout the state indicate not only a heavy hatch, but an unusually large survival.

This applies to practically every section of the state. There was an ample food crop during the summer and fall months, affording plenty of seed for the birds. More than 28,000 bobwhites and 8,500 cottontail quail were released by the State Hatchery at Tyler this year, through clubs in different parts of the state. These with the heavy hatch of native birds, are responsible for the big crop. The bag limit is 12 in one day or not more than 36 in one week or in possession.

WE REPAIR TYPEWRITERS★

Now that the dust has been settled, it's time to get last year's sand storms out of your typewriters.

There is nothing so damaging to a business machine as gritty sand in the works. Do-it-yourself oiling may make it operate, but it can also carry the sand deeper, shortening the life of your typewriter or adding machine.

Our trained repairmen can disassemble your typewriter, (any make), soak it in solvent, clean it thoroughly and put it back together so that it will work almost like new.

New machines need care, too. Even if your machine is only about a year old, there have been tons of dust in the air during the past year, and some of it has settled into your typewriter.

You gain an important advantage when you send your business machines to The Hondo Anvil Herald repair department for overhaul. Satisfaction is guaranteed, and we'll be right here to back up our statement if anything does go wrong with your machine. We've made some mistakes. We've had to go back and re-do a few jobs that weren't exactly right, but we re-do them cheerfully, and don't rest until they are working properly if we are told about it.

Why don't you join the hundreds who have had their typewriters and adding machines cleaned and repaired by The Hondo Anvil Herald? Our customers thus far have included Texas Aviation Industries, U. S. Government agencies in Hondo, Texas State agencies in Hondo, Universal-Rundle Corporation, Hondo schools, many other schools and county officials in an eight county area, as well as many individuals and business firms.

If your machines need a check-up, just telephone HA 6-3346 in Hondo, or drop by The Anvil Herald, and we'll be glad to give you quick service. If you need a loan machine, just say the word. We'll schedule a time when we can furnish you with a spare while yours is in the shop.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

AUSTIN — Legislative machinery is not built for speed. This was demonstrated as Texas lawmakers moved into their week of work on a bill designed to prevent occupation of schools by federal troops.

A multi-hour filibuster by Sen. Henry B. Gonzales bogged down proceedings in the upper chamber time to wait for Senate action. This apparently was to allow the House committee to consider both the Senate and House proposals before reporting.

Earlier, both House and Senate committees heard a number of religious and educational leaders speak against the bill. Protesters said, in effect, that the measure would be detrimental to the school system and would encourage violence. Legislative proponents retorted the witnesses seemed "more interested in cramming social dogma down our throats than in educating our children."

Still At It
Texans are riled about the tidelands again.

A suit filed by U. S. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell the day before he left office seeks to establish the tidelands boundaries of Gulf Coastal states (including Texas) at three miles out.

Texas claims tidelands 10 1/2 miles out by virtue of its 110-year-old annexation agreement with the U. S. A law passed by Congress in 1953 requires the federal government of respect the states' "historic boundaries."

Gov. Price Daniel called on the Legislature to protest to President Eisenhower concerning Brownell's action. Daniel, who co-sponsored the 1953 tidelands bill, read a letter from the President which said in effect, that he would continue to honor Texas' claim.

House immediately passed a resolution in keeping with the governor's request.

Daniel said the Brownell "added insult to injury" by asking in his suit that Texas be required to pay to the federal government money received from leases on tidelands beyond a three mile limit. This would amount to more than $25,000,000 which the state has salted away in the public school fund.

House also passed a resolution asking Congress to call a constitutional convention. Purpose would be to draft amendments limiting the power of the federal government where it infringes on state powers.

Lake Study Promised
Governor Daniel promised advocates of free use of rural lakes that they will have their inning.

A number of legislators from rural areas have tried during the special sessions to change the law which limits water in small (200 acre feet or less) farm ponds to livestock and domestic use. Freedom to use the water for irrigation is sought.

Present law requires a special permit from the State Water Board to gain irrigation privileges. Farmers say getting such permits is complicated and too expensive.

But spokesmen for cities and oppose a change. They fear wholesale irrigation would dry up the streams leaving no water for them.

Governor Daniel said he would not submit this issue for special session which "is dragging enough as it is." But he promised a study of the problem with a view, perhaps, to making permits easier to get.

Insurance Quiz
Senate investigating committee continued to put Insurance Department employees on the carpet to determine how well that agency is carrying out its functions.

Asst. Comm. Paul Connor took full responsibility for a three-months delay in action on a critical report concerning Preferred Life of Dallas. It was handled as quickly as possible "under the circumstances," said Connor. He pointed out the department was in a period of reorganization at the time and that it received hundreds of such reports.

T. W. Goad, for 17 years a department examiner, testified that examiners' morale was at an all-time low. He attributed this to (1) legislative sutting of examiners' per diem pay and (2) hostility from companies which feel state charges for an examination are too high.

Cost of Crime
Board of Corrections adopted a 1958 budget of $4,045,720 to take care of the all-time-high state prison population.

However, only $1,025,829 of this comes from tax money. The rest is earned by the various farming and manufacturing enterprises operated by inmates.

Number behind bars has climbed to an average of 9,726 this year compared to 4,987 in 1947.

More Money For Texas
Texans have been getting richer faster than the average U. S. citizens in the past 27 years.

University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports Texas average income increased 447 per cent from 1929-57. U. S. average increased 279 per cent.

But there's a less rosy side. Last year Texas per capita income still hadn't caught up with the national average. It was $1,686 compared to $1,940. Also, drought and farm depression have slowed Texas' rate of increase in incomes. However, said the Bureau report, some improvement in the farm incomes is expected this year.

Rural Roads Supported Governor Daniel had more words of encouragement for farmers at the Texas Farm Bureau convention.

"There'll be no let-up on the building of rural roads during this administration," he told delegates. Bureau delegates were concerned with recent suggestions that the farm-to-market system is getting a disproportionate share of a dis money and should be curtailed.

Short Snorts

Another Travis County grand jury is underway. State Auditor C. H. Caveness was called in to brief jurors on any possible irregularity that should be investigated. . . . A new law prohibiting optometrists from quoting prices in ads is invalid, says the attorney general. Opinion said the law was improperly drawn and therefore void. . . . Funeral services were held in Austin for former State Supreme Court Justice John H. Sharp, 83. Judge Sharp was appointed to the court by Gov. Dan Moody in 1929. . . . George Parr gained at least a brief respite in his court battles after the Court of Criminal Appeals reversed a conviction. Parr had been sentenced to five years in a New Braunfels district court. He also has been convicted in a federal court of using the mails to defraud a school district. . . . Sputnik means "we will do what we have been doing, except a little more of it," says State Civil Defense Director William L. McGill. Texas will stress preparing emergency governments to function in the event of disaster, he said. . . . More than 50,000 Texas families are now receiving food from the government's surplus stocks, reports the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Much of it goes to children via the school lunch program.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

Recently in a newspaper clipping in a Texas newspaper, we saw a reference to the Gonzales Polio Clinic. Rather frequently we have noted the use of the name: the Gonzales Warm Springs Polio Foundation.

This points up a common misconception among Texans, one which we earnestly hope you will help us correct by publishing this letter. The hospital's name is the Gonzales Warm Springs Rehabilitation Foundation; it was formerly the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation for Crippled Children.

While our patient load has been predominantly polio, the Foundation for many years has treated other crippling conditions. Today, as the Salk vaccine is proving its effectiveness, the emphasis is definitely shifting to non-polio cases — auto and other accident victims and those handicapped by other crippling diseases.

Of course, there is much yet to be done for polio victims. And while Warm Springs has no official connection with the March of Dimes, we can wholeheartedly substantiate their campaign appeal for funds to continue this vital work.

However, the point we at the Warm Springs Foundation wish to make is simply that the NON-POLIO cases treated — and there are more all the time — do NOT have a source of financial assistance such as the March of Dimes. This means that Warm Springs' own welfare program needs more and more voluntary contributions so that it may continue to provide this service.

No crippled child who can be helped is ever denied admission for financial reasons at the Foundation. Now crippled adults, too, can receive treatment on a welfare basis — another phase of the operation which calls for more funds.

We will be pleased to provide more details to anyone sending an inquiry to Warm Springs, P. O. Box 58, Gonzales, Texas.

Sincerely,
Walter H. Richter

... so much to be thankful for!

THANKSGIVING is more than a holiday feast!

Lost in our preoccupation with turkey dinner and the holiday game is the true significance of Thanksgiving — the humble, spiritual gratitude for the blessings that are ours in this wonderful country! We are a free people — free to go and come as we please, to speak our minds and worship in the faith of our choice. Let us not forget the price our forefathers paid for our heritage! Let us give thanks for our abundance!

Fantastic? It's mighty near unbelievable! But true — just read this:

You can win $500 a month for the rest of your life. You can win a gleaming new "Money-Ahead" '58 Plymouth. You can win other valuable prizes.

It's the Plymouth "Money-Ahead" Contest, where a lifetime of financial security is ripe for the taking. Few things are more substantial than money, and a lot of money is the grand prize. But this is a contest where you can win big without hauling down first prize . . . for 18 sparkling new Plymouths and 450 other valuable prizes will be awarded. Now here's what you do:

Go into your Plymouth Dealer's and ask him for a contest blank. You don't have to be a mental giant to shoot for the big money. This contest is fun, and it's easy.

You simply unscramble seven easy words and terms, like the one you see in the example to the right. Then add your own short version of why you'd be money ahead in a '58 Plymouth. Believe us, there are plenty of good reasons you can use: Torsion-Aire, Total-Contact Brakes, Silver Dart Style, Push-Button Driving, new Golden Commando engines, etc.

Unscramble or scramble — but you better not amble — to your Plymouth Dealer soon. The fun starts Monday, Nov. 25.

Jay Finger, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Finger, shot a 10 point buck, a 95-pounder, on the Finger Ranch north of D'Hanis Sunday, Nov. 16. Although he has been hunting for three years, this is his first kill and he says he will keep trying this season 'til he gets his other one.

On opening day of hunting season, C. W. Jones of Texas City killed a 6-point buck and B. G. Wiemers killed a 9-pointer the day, both on the Wiemers ranch.

We credited Mrs. Albert Saathoff with killing a buck in last week's paper, and Mrs. Alfred Saathoff called to say that she was the one who made the successful kill.

TELEPHONE TALK

by Carroll Davis, Manager

COLOR FOR CHRISTMAS

Christmas may be a month or so away, but the way time flies it's not too early to begin making out your gift list.

To match this colorful season of the year, telephones in color are an ideal gift - particularly for relatives or close friends who have only one telephone in their home.

A handy additional phone in color will be a gift they'll remember all-year long as it makes their telephone service more convenient, more useful - and more colorful.

Why not call the telephone company today to learn how easy it is to give a telephone in color.

Our display in the Telephone Company Business Office in Hondo will give you an opportunity to see what colors we have available and Mrs. Thompson will be more than happy to assist you with any color scheme you desire.

Color telephones are not the only Christmas gift item we have available. Illuminated dial sets are becoming increasingly popular because more people now realize the real value and need for such a service. It works like this - The telephone is placed in a location near your bed. If you find it necessary to talk over the telephone it isn't necessary to turn on the light to see the dial. Just pick up the receiver and a small light comes on (it's located right on the dial surface) and illuminates the dial so you can see it in the dark. We have another type where the light burns all the time. This can serve a dual purpose as a night light. Drop in to our Business Office and let us discuss it with you.

A Thought For Thanksgiving

Remember that old, Thanksgiving song, "... over the river and through the woods, to Grandmother's house we go?"

A short, sleigh-ride was all it took to get to Grandmother's in those days. Today, it seems as if everyone lives so far away - even when we travel by car.

This Thanksgiving, why not go "over the river and through the woods" the modern way - by telephone.

True, we won't be there to enjoy that wonderful food - the golden-brown, stuffed turkey, the cranberry sauce, the homemade bread and rolls - but we can gladden the hearts of those dear to us with a phone call.

Long Distance is a wonderful, personal way to visit during the holidays. Low Station-to-Station rates make Long Distance economical, too. And remember, call by number - it's twice as fast.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

Filleman Asks Business Cooperation During Rush

Postmaster Harry Filleman has asked the cooperation of all business firms to postpone the mailing of circulars and catalogs until after December 25th to keep the mails clear for the Christmas rush.

Beginning December 16, service windows at the Post Office will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. The windows are most crowded at lunch time, so the Postmaster suggests that packages be mailed before 10:00 a.m. or between 1:30 and 3:30 p.m.

Filleman said, "We hope to keep up our good record on the Christmas mails by getting everything processed and delivered well before Christmas Eve." He said further that much depends on your cooperation in mailing your Christmas cards and gifts during the next fifteen days.

The Postmaster stated, "Most people realize that the early arrival of a Christmas card or gift is always welcomed, although there are still some who have the mistaken idea that a gift or card arriving on Christmas Eve has a special significance. Actually, it is the thought behind the gift or card, and not the time of arrival that is the important consideration."

The Postmaster asks for your special cooperation to be sure that your return address and the recipients address are plainly typed or written on all labels and Christmas cards. Use zone numbers, and it's always a good idea to include an extra label inside your packages. Parcel Post size and weight limitations vary according to destination. Ask about them when you go to the Post Office to buy stamps.

Be sure to use First Class post-

HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Miss Elayne Kerr of Devine is one of this fall's pledges to Historical Phila literary society at Mary Hardin-Baylor college, Belton.

She was one of the 14 girls initiated into the society recently. The society was founded in 1883, with the creation of interest in history and literature as its aim. The society sponsored the all-college charm school, a program in the fall for new students.

Miss Kerr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Kerr of Devine, is a sophomore.
